

anna maria's CONSERVATORY

First it has to be beautiful, then the rest is a pleasure.

Anna Maria's Conservatory is a gathering of beautiful art from uniquely talented artists. The Conservatory translates this art onto textiles so that you can create something even more beautiful!

Anna Maria has gathered together artists that complement each other both in design and colors. She has partnered with Free Spirit Fabrics to present "Pathways" collections.

Chapter One "Pathways" consists of:

Vestige by Bookhou

Arounna Khounnoraj was born in Laos and raised in Canada from the age of four by a mother who handmade most of their life. Arounna therefore naturally entered art studies and has explored pattern and image in textiles and sculpture ever since.

Savernake Road by Monika Forsberg

Monika Forsberg is a Swedish born freelance illustrator and occasional animator based in North London. She studied art and film making at the RCA. Using pen, paper and paint her art is a fusion of everyday observation and fantasy. Monika's print work is charming and friendly and you get the feeling it has always been there with you.

English Summer by Anna Marie Horner

Anna Maria is curator and lead colorist for Conservatory. She has been designing fabrics exclusively for Free Spirit Fabrics since 2005. Her trademark, vivacious fabrics are inspired by her love of nature, fashion and art. Her sense of color keeps her collections new and nostalgic all at once.
